

NO NO NO-Please:) I am a flight attendant and can't imagine having even half of the 137 passengers in the air talking on there cell phones! I deal with customer complaints constantly of others blarring headphones,DVD players, or even people talking too loud. People become instantly child like upon entering the aircraft-so to give passengers the privilege with no courtsey of other's space, peace, or quiet could be dangerous! Restaraunts are now prohibiting cell phones?you wonder why?
